DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure in the specification is objected to because there is a lack of section headings:

CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS;
BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION;
BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION; BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S); and DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims 1-3 are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are lack of processing steps.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kollberg et al. Kollberg et al (col. col. 8, lines 26+) teach the claimed method and a device for controlling a single loop (a primary) flow mode of liquid metal supplied into the mold through a submerged nozzle 13 having outlet ports facing the short mold walls 11, 12, comprising the use of at least one static or periodically low-frequency traveling magnetic field generated by magnetic band areas A, B or magnetic brake 42 for the purpose of braking or splitting the primary flow and forming a double loop mode having a controlled secondary flow pattern (C<sub>1</sub> and C<sub>2</sub> in Fig. 2 or G<sub>3</sub> and G<sub>4</sub> in Fig. 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kollberg et al in view of either Alberny et al or Kunstreich et al.

Kollberg et al fail to teach the use of a controlled polyphase power supply.

However, either Alberny et al (col. 4, lines 14+) or Kunstreich et al (col. 4, lines 66+) teach the use of use of a controlled polyphase power supply coupled with inductors for the purpose of effectively generating the controllable traveling magnetic field. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide Kollberg et al the use of a controlled polyphase power supply coupled with inductors as taught by either Alberny et al or Kunstreich et al in order to effectively generate the controllable traveling magnetic field.
